

The Caribbean Cove on KGO Radio

San Francisco, Calif., August 25, 2005 — On the Ronn Owens show on KGO Radio 810 San Francisco, San Francisco Chronicle food writer GraceAnn Walden mentioned The Caribbean Cove. A transcript follows below.

#

GraceAnn Walden: But then I went to this place in Berkeley called Caribbean Cove, and it's at Blake and Telegraph. And it's in this funky place. I bet you know this place — Fondue Fred, it's been there for like seven hundred years.

Ronn Owens: I've seen it, I have not been there.

GAW: Right on the corner there. Anyway, it's upstairs from there. And I had some...I got something to go. I got jerk chicken, and, for seventeen bucks, you get two eats and a bunch of sides. And it was jerk chicken and oxtail stew, and it was fantastic.

RO: I always wondered if Fondue Fred knew Linoleum Larry.

GAW: [Laugh] Well if his fondue falls on the floor he would.

#

The Caribbean Cove is a woman-of-color owned independent restaurant and catering business serving the San Francisco Bay area. The Caribbean Cove serves up authentic Caribbean cuisine for a wide range of special occasions including hosted events, corporate parties, wedding receptions, theme parties, backstage cooking for music events and more. For a menu and information on services, visit www.thecaribbeancove.com

###